

Raspberry-and-Mint Infused Vodka

INGREDIENTS

- 1 (750-ml) bottle unflavored vodka, such as Row
- 2 cups fresh raspberries
- 1 cup fresh mint, tightly packed

PREPARATION

- 1 Pour vodka into a $\frac{1}{2}$ -gallon glass canning jar with lid; set aside.
- 2 Rinse raspberries and mint; pat dry with paper towels. Add raspberries and mint to jar with vodka; gently stir to combine. Place lid on jar. Store at room temperature for 3 to 7 days, turning jar occasionally.
- 3 To serve, line a fine-mesh sieve with cheesecloth; set sieve over a bowl. Strain vodka mixture through the cheesecloth-lined sieve. Discard raspberry and mint. If necessary, repeat straining until the vodka mixture is no longer cloudy. Store strained vodka in a tightly covered clean jar in refrigerator for up to 1 month. Serve in your favorite cocktail.
